General Education Development (GED®)

The GED® is a state and internationally recognized high school equivalency diploma for Connecticut adults. Enfield offers many opportunities for students to gain the skills necessary to pass the GED® test. Day and evening classes are available, as well as day and evening learning labs. The class schedule is available on page 15.

Testing will be given in Enfield days, evenings and Saturdays. Prior to registering for the exam, students should complete practice tests in all four subject areas. The cost of each practice test is $6. This fee will be waived to students who are enrolled in Enfield Adult Education programs for a minimum number of hours. To register for the test, go to www.GED.com. Connecticut Statute requires all students to meet with an Adult Education counselor prior to scheduling their GED® exam.

2016 WORKSHOP TOPICS

(Registration is recommended, but not required.)

This is a one credit course offered for two hour sessions over eight weeks. The class is held in a computer lab at Asnuntuck. Attending all of the sessions and completing all of the assignments earns the student one full credit. Completing fewer assignments and attending fewer sessions will result in a lower amount of credit. The purpose of the course is to facilitate transition from where the student is now and where they would like to be. At any time, the students can request an individual session with the facilitator to discuss their transition. Grading will be done on in class and homework assignments. Writing prompts will be part of each class.

Thursday, September 29 2016

Week 1:

The focus of the first class is an evaluation of the student's goals, strengths and weaknesses. The O'Net Computer system will be used to evaluate possible careers for exploration.

Thursday, October 6, 2016

Week 2:

Further career exploration and discussion will center around job outlook and training required for entry into careers. Popular job sites will be studied and reviewed. Companies will be analyzed for their mission and employee benefits. The concept of paying it forward through philanthropy will be analyzed.

Thursday, October 13, 2016

Week 3:

Career opportunities at Asnuntuck Community College will be presented. The admissions process and financial aid will be covered.

Thursday, October 20, 2016

Week 4:

The manufacturing program and opportunities at Asnuntuck will be reviewed. How careers are portrayed in the media, books, movies and advertising will be discussed.

Thursday, October 27, 2016

Week 5:

Job interviewing will be studied. Students will have an opportunity to be an interviewer and interviewee.

Thursday, November 3, 2016

Week 6:

Students will learn how to write a resume and will complete their resume and a letter of introduction. Marketing techniques will be analyzed and students will apply these to their own job search.

Thursday, November 10, 2016

Week 7:

The terminology of the world of work, benefits, job applications and further career work will continue.

Thursday, November 17, 2016

Week 8:

Students will present to the class their final resumes and letters of introduction for review. Articles related to the class topics will be shared. Final meetings will be held between the students and the facilitator.

KITE
 Key Initiatives To Early Education

Research shows that in the first five years of life a child develops 90% of their adult-size brain. Children may fall behind in both academic and social skills if they are not exposed to the right kinds of stimulation. Unfortunately, this gap only gets wider as children grow older. There are many ways to encourage a child's early development. KITE (Key Initiatives To Early Education) is a town-wide collaborative effort aimed at enhancing early education and child care opportunities in the Town of Enfield by:

- Providing information and resources about early education and child development to families in Enfield.
- Educating the community on the value of early learning.
- Empowering families to maximize their child's readiness for school.
- Offering professional development for early education providers in our community.

Mentor Program Seeking Volunteers

The Enfield Public School's Mentoring Program is currently seeking caring adults to mentor school age children. Mentors volunteer for an hour a week, with the same student each week. Volunteers work on the child's self-esteem and encourage their attendance at school. All meetings happen during the school day, many times during lunch or first thing in the morning and can include playing games, doing crafts or just talking.

All mentors are required to attend a 2-hour training session. For the safety of our students, prospective mentors must provide a valid government issued photo ID and be willing to be fingerprinted. For more information on the Mentoring Program, contact Melany Anderson Mentoring Program Coordinator at (860) 253-4737 or manderson@enfieldschools.org.
